Description

The catchy Indie pop tunes from the Swedish band can now be heard in the new Orange commercial!

Johns Vatten prefer speaking from themselves rather as a collective than a band, as they combine so many different styles and personalities. This energy and variety can definitely be heard in their music as well. The nine-piece band from Gothenburg was formed somewhere around 2011 and started hitting the stages in their home country Sweden.

Their Indie Pop songs with orchestral elements, somehow emotional, but very cheerful and encouraging at the same time, will surely find their way out of Scandinavia soon!

The song "Wind In Your Sight" from their self-titled debut EP hits you from the first second on, with its catchy rhythm and the beautiful, happy melody- you just can't resist. It's therefore no surprise that it became the song behind the new Orange commercial!
