

We found music for the French feature film "La Grande Boucle"!

Description

Why not doing a nice little bike trip this summer? Like the Tour de France for example?

The main character in the new French feature film "La Grande Boucle" is doing just that- but one day ahead of the professional cyclists. In the end he's the shining star of the tour! We found some great music to accompany his ride.

The film will be out in June but you can already have a look at the trailer featuring "Purple Neon Lights" by The Right Ons!
