

Get Back In The Kitchen

Description

Easily the funniest thing to come out of Afghanistan in recent years (or France, for that matter), award-winning Canal+ comedy Kaboul Kitchen is finally back for its long-awaited second season—and we helped find the music!

Continuing our run of work with the show, this time we placed tracks by British garage rockers Bye Bye Blondie and 1960s blues peddlers The Junior Victors in two upcoming episodes. The 12-episode season is due to start on Monday 13th Jan, airing on French television and later via the Canal+ online web player.
