

Snow bother for Attensam

Description

As the season for sensible shoes looms (here weâ??re hoping to stay in comfortable denial for another month at the very least), Austrian maintenance wizards Attensam have rolled out their winter spots.

Anyone who has ever cursed the Continental freeze knows the frustration of suiting up for the grim outdoors, and also knows that Attensamâ??s uncanny ability to whisk the winter away from your door â?? even if only by a metre â?? merits serious celebration.

We licensed Louis Armstrongâ??s exceedingly sunny cover of Piafâ??s â??La Vie En Roseâ??, reflecting both the joy of looking sharp â?? even if only in your hallway â?? and the ability of great maintenance to keep you smiling (and your shoes gleaming) even when the weather isnâ??t so rosy.
