

Around the World in 7 Days: Playlist 05/05/17

Description

Here at Tracks & Fields we work with clients from all over the world and believe that to find the best possible music for advertising and film, it is important to draw on artists from not only the typical domains of popular music, but the world over. Therefore we spend every day scouring the world for new music that will suit the broad variety of projects we work on. So why not share? Each Friday weâll bring you our best discoveries from all the corners of the earth.
