

Get summer pool party ready with Sony’s new wireless speaker

Description

Our latest composition and sound design work is on show in the product film for the new Sony Wireless Speaker SRS-XB402G.

Shifting seamlessly from future bass to house and inside to poolside, the film and our composition show off the speaker's versatility. Able to change the mood with the touch of a button or a voice command and weather the myriad challenges that life brings (we've all accidentally dropped a speaker into a pool at SOME point, right?).

The film details the speaker's many features, including rhythmic lighting, water protection and of course the high sound quality we've all come to expect from Sony.
