

Onitsuka Tiger embrace the darkness in their Autumn Winter season film

Description

It won't be long before the nights start drawing in once again and the colour drains from the landscape (and our wardrobes). With that in mind, Onitsuka Tiger have launched their Autumn Winter 2020 collection film, soundtracked by glassy strings music supervised and licensed by Tracks & Fields.

The swirling strings of Miro Kepinski's Reflection provide the film with an abstract urgency, as countdown clocks tick down to zero and swathes of red smoke fill the air. Kepinski is a Polish composer, producer and musician whose film scores have accompanied productions from Sydney to

Los Angeles and have won awards around the world.
