

Find your ideal job at your fingertips with Indeed and their latest campaign

Description

We worked with Indeed Belgium to license Charle Trenet's classic track La mer for their latest campaign, where they invite the viewer to search for their ideal job through their platform.

The film features people from all ages searching for all types of jobs; from sales manager to veterinary positions. Indeed look to celebrate how their platform connects users with a wide range of job types. The elegant and classic French track on the background gives the film a serious yet hopeful mood, driving home the feeling we often get while applying for jobs we want.
